telc English A2-B1 measures language competence at levels A2 and B1 of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR).

Candidates at level A2 can

- understand the most important information in everyday conversations, short announcements on the radio and telephone messages,
- extract the most important information from short newspaper texts, everyday announcements and public signs,
- fill in standard forms in shops, banks, offices, etc.
- write notes related to their own surroundings,
- ask and answer informative questions in conversations about everyday topics,
- agree upon things in daily conversations.

Candidates at level B1 can

- understand the main points in everyday situations, public announcements and radio announcements,
- extract important details from newspaper texts, statistics and various standard documents,
- write cohesive private or semi-formal correspondence such as letters or emails,
- lead a simple, direct conversation about topics which appeal to them, state their opinion and react appropriately to the opinion of their partner in conversation,
- report about things in daily life, make suggestions or arrangements.

telc examinations are set centrally and are carried out and marked according to standardised criteria.

This certificate is only valid if it carries the telc seal and the stamp and signature of the licensed telc examination centre or examining institution.
